

Parkinson's Victoria Recognition Awards

Each year Parkinson's Victoria recognises the significant contribution members of the community make in supporting people living with Parkinson's and their families. Our annual awards program recognises the services of both individuals and groups for their contribution to activities, years of service and outstanding commitment to the Parkinson's Community.

If you would like to see someone or a group acknowledged for their service to your local community or the wider Parkinson's community, why not nominate them for one of the Parkinson's Victoria Recognition Awards? It may be a support group leader, local business supporter, a health care professional or anyone who has shown outstanding support.

The following awards are open to nominations from all members of the community, not only members of Parkinson's Victoria.

Awards and Criteria

Sir Zelman Cowen Award: This award, the highest honour available, is presented annually to an individual, recognising their outstanding service to Parkinson's Victoria and services to people living with Parkinson's.

Sir Zelman Cowen generously gave permission for the award to be in his name, which is most appropriate, recognising his own outstanding community service to all Australians, and his personal journey with Parkinson's.

Harold Waldron Carer's Award: This award will honour a family member or friend that has been touched by Parkinson's and has made a significant difference to the Parkinson's Community, through their voluntary leadership or support of a leader, through their consistency, length of service and dedication to the community.

Honorary Life Membership: Recognises outstanding service, normally over a period of at least 15 years.

Five, Ten or Fifteen Year Services Awards: Recognises the continuous service of volunteers in an administrative, project or service capacity.

Community Recognition Award: Recognises the significant contribution of an individual or an organisation to events or activities.
